LLANBERIS

D. BURGESS.

Climbing in Llanberis, the Pass steeped in tradition and definitely giving one the feeling of being "Amongst It" Yes, after a reasonable absence the Oread are again having a camping meet in the Pass: no huts but a genuine camping meet! Camping will be at the first farm on the left, below the C.C. hut (Ynws Ettws) Turn left off the road, over the bridge and left into the field. First there choose a good spot for the crowd.

Where to climb - well it's up to you; no need for cars but plenty of walking to the high crags. It's good training for the Alps and there's all the gymnastics you need to hand low down ! Classics just waiting for you. For lifts etc. see me in the Wilmot beforehand.

JULY 18/19

STANAGE

NAT ALLEN.

This weekend has been selected as a near job before the holiday Alpine Meets session. A chance to look at the club's Alpine heroes before they return from a fortnight's boozing in the National Bar, Chamonix. See them all in action in Edith's room at The Royal Oak, Eyan.

Camping will be at the now familiar campsite at Calver Mill. Turn into the narrow track at the Post Office 50 yards on the right after the river bridge, coming in from Baslow.

Where to climb - the place is Stanage edge on Sunday. Probably a group will be walking and doing half a dozen routes on each edge in passing. : so let's give it hell !

TAN-Y-WYDDFA 'CLOGGY' R. CHAMBERS

This meet offers a chance for relaxation after the rigours of the Alps. Cloggy should seem less formidable after those French four thousanders and the pallor of confrontation will be less noticeable under that continental tan.

Please see Ron before going to the Alps for Hut bookings, lifts etc.
