SCOTLAND.

P. GARDINER.

What will you be doing over Easter, watching the rain lash down in the Lakes, sluice down at Swanage or pee down in the Pass?.

You can't win because the sun will be in Scotland. In the Cairngorms last Easter they were being carried off with heat stroke, Two years ago conditions were excellent, Three years ago at Linn of Dee the sun shone out of a clear blue sky from morning till night.

This year's meet will continue in true Hayes tradition and by popular request, returns to the south side of the Cairngorms, an area which offers everything except the crowds of Aviemore. There's ski-ing on the Cairnwell and Meall Odhar, chair lifts and tee bars, climbing and walking on Cairn Toul, Braerioch and Ben Macdui. The splendid crag of Lochnagar, the magnificence of Lairig Ghru, Forest walks, Mc Ewans Export and Youngers Tartan Bitters-need I say more?.

I am trying to ascertain whether the Linn of Dee site at O.S. Ref 073897 is still available, if not I shall arrange an alternative so contact me and check in a weeks time. FREE tot of WHISKY for all arrivals

GO NORTH!!.

Tan-y-Wyddfa is fully booked for Easter.

APRIL 15/16

P.B. SCOTT.

This meet will be held at the George Inn, Alstonfield, (camping of course) where facilities are available eg. Bogs and Beer. No need to elaborate on the climbing save to say that there are a number of crags providing climbs on Limestone of all grades. Excellent walking country is also available.

Anyone wishing to know more about this meet-please contact me at the Wilmot.

APRIL 18

INDOOR MEET, ROYAL OAK, CUCKBROOK.

8.00pm.

For the benefit of those who have not yet seen the fine collection of slides taken whilst a member of the 1961 Nuptse Expedition, Denis Davies has kindly offered to repeat the show originally given about 10 years ago. Without doubt these slides rank amongst the finest of any Himalayan Expedition.

APRIL 27

EIGER NORTH WALL CLIMB 1971.

7.30pm.

A lecture has been organised on behalf of raising funds for Mountain Rescue Equipment (stretcher, etc.) for Team Alpha.

This is to be held at the Derby Guildhall (Market Place) Theatre and is given by our Eiger Tigers Pete & Chris.

Needless to say we are giving this event as much publicity as possible in order to meet the public but hope that all members will give it their support.

The theatre houses some 278 plush seats so be sure you get your ticket from either the Guildhall or the following members.- Colin Hobday, Chuck Hooley, Paul Craddock, Paul Gardiner or Dave Williams.

The Guildhall buffet will be open for tea & coffee from 7.00-10.30

APRIL 28/30

LLANBERIS

R. CHAMBERS

Here's a chance to 'get in' those routes you haven't done in the Pass, also there's certainly plenty to go at.

The Pass itself must contain the finest selection of routes from V.Diff to Extreme in North Wales, so dig out your tent and let's see if there really are more than a dozen active OREADS.

Camping will be at Ynys-Ettws. It's a sharp left turn so don't miss it.

I'll be in the Pen-y-Gwryd on Friday night from 10pm. onwards. (with a bit of luck)
