MAY 5th Thollows one of BURBAGE ; of day animates C. RUSSELL

Old fashioned gritstone climbing here, nothingexciting by modern standards, but an opportunity to toughen up the fingers on a few acrobatic little routes. I shall start at the North end of the edge and work Southwards (slowly I fear) The edge is at map ref; 2682. Cars can be parked at the South end, and a newcomer walking up the path beside Burbage Brook would pass near enough to the edge to recongise the climbers

MAY 10-12th

CWM EIGIAU

R. Squires

Eigiau cottage offers almost instant access to the climbs on Craig yr Ysffa, is not far from Ysgolion Duon, and walking on the Carneddau commences at the back of the hut. All this, only if you survive the tottuous approach drive and hut grind. The meet has been timed for a moonlit Friday night (The next one will occur in 23rd century CR) to avoid last year's debacle of the leader blundering about the wrong mountain at midnight in pitch darkness.

Situation G.R. 714 638 on O.S. 107

Approach Head generally for Wales. At Pentrefoelas t upn right, signpost Nebo (B5113) through Nebo to Llanwrwst. Turn left in Llanwrwst over packhorse bridge, through Trefriw and Dolgarrog to Talybont. Turn left in Talybont, hairpins upwards and continue to fork. Either Left 2½ miles to dam, leaves a shorter walk to hut (20mins) but is rough. Or Right, go until you stop, then follow track on foot to dam. A track leads from the dam to the hut. Torch necessary. The hut hold 12 people, more or less. Camping is possible below the dam or higher if you carry gear. See me at The Moon for bookings may 24-27th (SPRING HOLIDAY) ESKDALE

This year we return to a favourite venue from the past, where all the Lake District Southern peaks can be visited. Climbing principally on Scafell main and East butresses, Pikes Crag, Esk butress and Cam Spout, one can venture further to Dunnerdale, Harter Fell and other outliers. Camping is at Brotherikeld Farm (ref; 213013) and is very pleasant. The farm drive is the first turning on the right after passing over the cattle grid at the foot of Hardknott.

ACDEN TRICE LETEO

P. JANES

This fine, and often neglected gritstone edge was the scene of a very successful meet two years ago, and Janes is currently negotiating with the farmer for the same excellent campsite, near to the pub at Bradfield. The edge overlooks Agden reservoir, N.W. of Sheffield (0.S. Ref; 265933) and can be reached via Ladybower reservoir taking the Sheffield road and truning off across the Strines to Bradfield. For those wishing to make a less scenic approach I would recommend the M.l., via Chesterfield to Sheffield leaving on the A616 and turning off at Worrall (5miles) See Pete in the Moon or ring Derby 701325 for final details.
