

As part of a nation-wide countryside clean-up campaign, plastic bags have been deposited at Tan-y-Wyddfa for the use of anyone who is going on the hills - the idea being that a small amount of rubbish collected by many people will greatly reduce the litter problem in the area.

Also at the hut, it is proposed to provide a certain amount of 'maintenance equipment' for individuals to use when conditions on the hills are not up to scratch. To this end it is hoped that any surplus paint brushes, tools etc will be donated to the hut.

HEATHY LEA

Due to the suspected presence of our furry little rodent friends at Heathy Lea, Peter O'Neil has asked that no loose food be left at the hut during the week. Steps are being taken to eliminate the problem altogether.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

It has been reluctantly decided that the membership subscriptions for 1979 will be increased to £4 for a single person and £5 for a married couple. Although the percentage increase may appear excessively large, it is brought into perspective by the fact that the rates at Tan-y-Wyddfa have been doubled this year (despite a vigorous appeal by the Club) and also roof repairs at the same hut are likely to cost several hundreds of pounds.

CLUB BADGES

For the benefit of newer members, Club Badges are available from Dave Williams at a cost of 35p each.

QUOTE

Quote from Peter O'Neil at the 'Fighting Cocks' during a fancy dress night.

"I was determined not to buy any raffle tickets from the St Trinian's schoolgirl - then she showed me her black suspenders and I bought half a quid's worth."
