

The winter season, from a weather point of view, seems to have started very well and right from the word go, this year has produced some exciting, not to mention ingenious, winter sports.

On the opening day of the year, after suitable alcoholic refreshment in the "Gate", the Oread Winter Olympics Team took to the snow slopes around Brassington. Witnessing several youngsters "sledging" on polythene bags inspired Pete Scott (ever alert to a sound business deal), to commandeer Dave Wright's bivi bag and the ensuing debacle could have caused permanent damage to those of a nervous disposition. The four man bob (bag?) was exciting, the four lady bob was very interesting, but the sight of two grown men climbing inside a polythene bag in order to slide down a snow slope defies description. However a very enjoyable day was had by all.

PLEASE NOTE. To all those who have carefully arranged to visit ailing Grandmothers, have ingrowing toe nails removed etc, etc, on the 18th February the Fell Race will now take place on Sunday, February 25th, ie the day after the AGM.

FELL RACE

FEB 25TH

NAT ALLEN

Following the nerve-tingling, ulcerbound events of the previous evening's AGM, Oreads can give vent to their frustrations, by joining in a happy troupe of joggers in our third "Annual Fell Race".

So here we go again, sorry about the change of date; due of course to my particular brand of winter sport (guest at another club dinner), we now join as stated the fun and games of the AGM. Be warned now, you loose-living lot, away for a while with those "aids for loving", on with the boxing gloves and "winter drawers on" (unisex remark). Come "give it 'Ell" in the lovely country surrounding Heathy Lea.

Conditions for entry are unchanged. The course, as ever, Top Secret. Three or more check points that must be hit square. Entry Fee 10p (to bribe Ashcroft and Rusty to miss a checkpoint). Enter if possible before the day with Nat Allen, or as usual a sign on the line is possible.

We still require our eager band of volunteer non-combatant helpers to man checkpoints, soup kitchens and tea towels. This is not a spectator sport - to see the fun and games you have to involve yourselves. It's a Club event, but chosen friends and youth are welcome, but please again, no children. Dress to suit the day. A 2½" map of the area - "Calver" - and a compass could be useful.

Three groups at 20 minute intervals. First group off at 11am - slow's, alcoholics and the nervous first, middle men, and lastly the supermen. Come early and warm up, view the secret course map, go to the loo etc, etc.

News is already filtering through of notables in secret training. "Grunt Grunt Gregson", "Puff Puff Pretty", "Lang Legs Linney" and "Bottled Bitter Burgess" all look good bets, but let us not forget last year's champion "Super Sedgewick", looking virile, so let's have you all there for a good day. Your handicapper is working hard to ensure you can win the Grand Trophy.
