NOVEMBER 2023

Editorial

Lots of local walks and social get-together to see us through to the end of the year, from gentle strolls to the rigours of the Bullstones weekend. In November we have the Annual Dinner - always a great night – followed by a walk from Calver on Sunday.

In here is the draft programme for next year with a regular line up of local walks including the new Geo walks. Away meets include four Scottish winter meets and many other hut meets including our own – but none of these meets will go ahead unless somebody volunteers to lead them. Please have a look and see what you can offer. There is still plenty of time to add in extra meets so if you have an idea of something you would like to do then get in touch with Michael Moss and let's make it happen.

On page 10 are details of the arrangements for covering the absence of Treasurer and Hut Booking Secretary during November – we hope they have a great time in Nepal.

Copy Deadline 20 November.

Draft Meets List 2024

Please note: these meets will not happen unless people volunteer to lead them so don't be shy – have a look and see what you can do.

Some weekends have been booked at Tan yr Wyddfa including Easter weekend when perhaps someone may fancy using the hut as a base for a Gogarth meet.

There is a Lofoten trip in the summer but that is too far for people with limited holidays so an alternative venue would be welcome as well.

Winter zoom talks Nigel Briggs

Winter zoom talks - in the last newsletter I said that I hoped the first of this season's evening zoom talks would be on 17th October. However due to technology glitch issues and other time pressures we will not be able to get our presentation ready on time.

We are then away for much of November and therefore not able to organise anything for November, therefore the first zoom evening is now likely to be in December. I will issue further information nearer the time. Apologies for this.

This Winter's Evening MeetTalks Rob Tresidder

These take place on the first (except January) Tuesday of the month at The Royal Oak in Ockbrook.

07 November: Cath Flitcroft (BMC)
05 December: Jon Shields, paraclimber
09 January 2024
06 February
05 March Nigel Briggs on Langtang trek

That leaves me with one (or two) slots to fill. Do you have a tale to tell? Maybe you would prefer half an evening. Do you know someone you could invite or someone you would like me to invite? Please be in touch.

Wed 1 November Goyt Valley walk Clive "Rusty" Russell

Please assemble at the car park adjacent to Derbyshire Bridge at say 10.00 for 10 15 (about 1 mile downhill from Cat and Fiddle, SK018715). We shall initially traverse the heather moorland East of the river Goyt before crossing a pedestrian bridge (do not wear headgear looking even remotely like a pheasant). Thereafter we shall ascend the other side of the valley in the neighbourhood of Errwood Hall before turning South down a narrow remote valley just west of Cats Tor. The remainder of the route is discretionary depending on the weather and the state of the party. A social gathering on conclusion at Flash Bar stores and Cafe.

Cath will talk about her work, past and present, and how it affects BMC members and constituent clubs. Admission £3 Oreads £5 non members.

Sunday 19 November Post Prandial Walk Jan Wilson

Post Dinner Walk 10AM for a 10:15 start.

Park beside the cricket pitch in Calver village near the Derwentwater Arms. Our route will be around 10 miles and proceed up through Curbar village onto the end of Baslow Edge. We will then head across to pick up the very end of White Edge at the road junction of the A621 . We will head across White Edge to the Grouse for a lunchtime stop. We will then proceed back via Grindleford and the river Derwent. A shorter walk with less ascent is possible by joining us at the A621 road junction with Clod Hall Lane where there is plenty of parking beside the road. If you want to do this please get in touch and I will message you with a rough time.

If the weather is fine I hope to have a food stop on White Edge before the pub. Food is available at the pub but I advise booking if you wish to partake. For those interested there is further opportunity for refreshments at the Derwentwater Arms when we complete the route.

17 – 18 November Fools with Tools (FRCC/Oread MC Dry Tooling) – Raw Head Neil McAllister and Tim Sellears

Good training for winter climbing or simply a sport in its own right, either way dry-tooling is getting more and more popular with a number of specific venues being developed up and down the country. Whether it's early season training for those steep winter routes; improving your 'mixed' skills and techniques; or just having a go to see what all the fuss is about, this meet could be for you?

This joint Oread MC/FRCC meet is based at Raw Head Barn in Great Langdale with easy access to the Lake District's premier dry-tooling crag, The Works (NY 313 017) near Hodge Close. This picturesque venue contains over 25 routes across a spread of grades, from slabby M4 to seriously overhanging M12, a little something for everyone!
Please contact Tim Sellears, xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx tel. xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx) who is the Oread MC representative, to book a place or have a chat to see if the meet is for you.

Summer 2024 Lofoten

We plan to be in Lofoten for the two week period from 22nd June to 6th July. Our personal plan is to drive from Calais taking about a week each way.

I have emailed the people who have contacted me already, expressing an interest or a definite intention to come. If you have not had an email from me and wish to be kept informed about the trip please get in touch and I will add you to the list.

We will be taking our van so the intention is to be on a campsite, we have not yet researched options and are open to suggestions. I believe there is also low(ish) cost 'cabin' type accommodation available. We are away for the next month so will make more definite plans in early December. If anyone is planning to fly over there will be various vans going that will be able to take some of your luggage for you.

If you are interested and want to know more, please get in touch.

Wirksworth Climbing Wall

Good news from the Derwent Mountaineering Club:

In response to their correspondence regarding the long overdue repair of the Wall, they have received the following reply on 12 October from Councillor Steve Flitter, Chair of Derbyshire Dales District Council.

“I believe an order has been placed to repair the climbing wall and is to be completed in early 2024 when the parts are made and that there will be a short period (A few days) of closure to install.”

75th Anniversary Publication Nigel Briggs

Some of you will have already received emails from me about contributions for the proposed publication I am hoping to put together as part of the 75th celebrations. Here is a brief outline of what I have in mind.

2024 is the 75th Anniversary of the formation of the Oread Mountaineering Club.

I am wanting to produce an 'Almanac' focussing mainly on the events of the last 25 years (1999 – 2024). I do not have the skills and abilities (or enthusiasm) to produce a volume like the 50th Journal. I am proposing that the Almanac contains a record of positions held within the club, where key events have been held e.g. Alpine meets, the annual dinner and the Bullstones meet etc. I welcome any suggestions as to what people would like to see.

I also would like articles written by members which have a 'reflective' nature about them. I envisage them to be looking at how things have developed and changed over the last 25 years or so. These can be from a personal perspective or a club view. I also would like to see articles about key events over the last 25 years, such as the impact of the Covid 19 pandemic on the club.

I do not want to be too prescriptive in what or how things should be written other than they should be somewhat 'reflective'.

At the moment the plan is to produce the Almanac in electronic format, such as a pdf file. I also intend to get some copies produced as softback printed versions for those who would like them (such as me!). I do not intend to do a large print run or go down the hardback route, we can leave that for the 100th!

My current plan is to have the Almanac ready for the 75th Dinner, so it will be towards the end 2024. I am looking at getting material in to start editing and compiling early 2024.

If you would like to contribute to the 'Almanac' with an article please get in touch with me with the topic, it may not matter if it is an area we have already covered as another perspective would be interesting. I am concentrating on events that have taken place since 1999. However, it is not fixed and events from earlier years can be included. What I want is that everybody has the opportunity to contribute.

I am also interested in having photographs that reflect the club activities again particularly from the last 25 years.

Thanks.

Paul Gardiner's Lecture – now available on demand!

For all sorts of reasons many people who would have loved to hear Paul's lecture at Ockbrook were unable to be present. Because it was such a key presentation in terms of the history of the club it seemed a good idea to try to make a record of the event. Spike Johnston put a lot of skill and hard work into recording the event and then editing it and you can now access both the video recording of the event and a separate file of the photos by clicking on the links below.

Here is a link to the slides on flickr.com : <https://flic.kr/s/aHBqjAY9jf>

The videos, parts one and two,. are on www.Youtube.com and you can either click on this link or go to Youtube.com and search for Oread Mountaineering Club. This brings up the two parts of Paul's talk and one or two other things as well. Spike is also working on producing a written transcript of the talk.

<https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLhvYh8kXmyf9qHDy0phTnupoobaBhSJ->

Little Langdale Fylde Hut 6 - 9 October

Tony Howard:

Derek and I travelled in his van to Little Langdale, collecting Snod and Bott in Chapel. The weather was pleasant and sunny. However, we encountered rain well before reaching the hut. Rivers, fields and in places the roads were flooded – but we got through. Only Pete and Ali were already there. Dave Roscoe was next to arrive, followed by Roger (Gandalf), Mike (Ethel) and Simon (Pape) and Nick Evans, Steve Booth and Kath.

Once the rain had stopped a group of us walked down to the river to observe the extent of flooding. The depth was 1 metre, apparently lower than earlier on. We continued towards the local quarry and caves. It immediately started to rain again! The prudent/intelligent wore over trousers but the imprudent/idiotic did not and got very wet! The caves were spectacular.

Dave and I ate in the Three Shires Head, which was a bit underwhelming. Others ate in Ambleside or in the hut.

After deliberations on Saturday morning, we all rejected walk options around Elterwater because of the flooding. Dave and I chose to walk from Hawkshead to Tarn Hows. The weather was dull but with little or no rain. The round trip was seven miles. After a couple of beers in the Queens Head in Hawkshead we returned to the hut, dressed for dinner, and ate in the Bulls Head in Coniston.

The weather was much better on Sunday. Dave and I drove to Ambleside and walked over Wansfell Pike to Troutbeck in glorious sunshine. After beers and sandwiches at the Mortal Man, we returned to Ambleside via the south side of the fell.

We drove back to the hut for dinner. The others had already departed, not 'this life' you understand, just the hut! We left the following morning.

For me it was a great weekend with Oread mates and my old mate of about 67 years!

Dave Roscoe near Tarn Howes. Both photos Tony Howard.

Pete Kennington:

Little Langdale on Friday was wet, roads were flooded and river banks were burst. Ali and I took shelter in Cathedral Cavern and visited Slaters Bridge which was just passable. Saturday was dull but dry and in the forest it was lighting up time for the funghi. After crossing paths with Tony Howard and Dave Roscoe at Tarn Hows we found many a waterfall. Sunday was grand, Snod told tales of the Cake Farm on the way to Lingmoor Fell so that's where we went with fine views of the Langdale Pikes. Thanks Snod it were a reet grand weekend.

Snod Helliwell:

Derek, Tony, Bott and I travelled up together on Friday. It was very wet but we went for a walk to Cathedral Quarry. I've never seen the ford so deep - it was over three feet on the marker. Tony went to the pub but the rest of us went to the chippy in Ambleside where we met Gandalf, Ethel and Simon. The welcome was underwhelming so we'll go to another one in future. We adjourned to the Golden Rule - much more welcoming and we sat by the fire! Saturday was supposed to be better but the clag was down so we never got to Long Scar as planned. Derek, Bott and I went to Great Langdale - but it was full - some sort of fell race - so we returned to the hut and walked to Lingmoor Fell - past the cake farm - excellent! When we reached the clag we walked down to Elterwater and met Team Gandalf on their way to watch the rugby in Elterwater.

Sunday was a much better day but the car park under Ravens was full so we parked at the Stickle Barn in the National Truss car park (free as Derek is a member). By this time the sun had made an appearance. We set off up Revelation which I thought was Severe - in fact it is H.S.4b and both Bott and Derek struggled with the damp bulge and traversed off - but all was not lost as Victoria Mawer and two friends were following and kindly retrieved my gear. Team Gandalf had set off for Long Scar but in the end turned up at Ravens and did Centipede and we followed them up it.

On return to the car park Derek was not amused to find he had a parking ticket from the National Trust even though he was displaying his free ticket. A strongly worded email sorted this out!!
Nick Evans, Steve Booth and Kathy were also on the meet but I never found out what they did.
All in all a great weekend at a lovely hut and great fun despite the disappointing weather.

Belper walk 19 October Ruth Gordon

Looking at the dismal forecast on Tuesday evening I was convinced nobody would come – but magically it improved from 90% rain all day to occasional showers and sure enough, by 11.00 on Thursday the heavy overnight rain had cleared. As the six of us made our way up to Belper Lane end, we soon felt overdressed with the sun breaking through. From there a short steep pull took us into a pleasant beech wood and on to the Mid Shires Way.

As we stopped to take in the far -reaching views there was a crashing in the undergrowth and a creature emerged - Roger had been tracking our steps at a steady jog – following the V on the heel of a boot! Following footprints was an easy matter as the going was exceedingly soft – sometimes liquid! At one point the footpath disappeared completely underwater but, with local knowledge, Roger assured us drier ground (slightly) lay to our right so we bushwacked our way round.

A big horse chestnut tree sheltered us from the only brief shower of the day while we ate lunch. Then we approached a beautiful beech and chestnut wood and Helen was bemoaning the demise of the rope swing she always used to have a go on there. Imagine her delight on finding a new structure in place. Alas it wasn't up to the job – depositing her in a heap on the ground.

From here to Farnah Green and it was all downhill to the path alongside the Derwent which was a brown swirling torrent after the heavy rainfall. A very pleasant cafe stop in Belper rounded the day off nicely. Spike and Helen declined and set off on their final uphill two miles home – but were seduced by a handy pub they just happened to find along the way! Thanks to Sue Todd, Stuart Firth, Helen Griffiths, Spike Johnston, Mike Wren and Roger Larkam for your company and to Spike for the photos.

Tan yr Wyddfa update Snod Helliwell

Three hard days last week (16-18 October) saw the shower tray reinstated with waterproofing around it using rubber sheet and glass reinforced polyester. Because the new tray was shallower than the old one we had to increase the size of the outlet pipe.

The difficulty in doing work at Tan yr Wyddfa is that every time you find you need something you haven't anticipated it means a trip to Caernarfon or Portmadoc. Expensive on time and petrol. The tiling was completed late on Wednesday but needed time for the adhesive to dry so Derek and I had to return the following Monday, 23rd to do the grouting and put in the sealant.

We had to re-stock with toilet rolls whilst in Portmadoc. Please – if you are at the hut and notice shortages if you are near a shop get the stuff and a receipt and you will be reimbursed or just let me know so I can arrange it.

Martin Musson – a tribute from Ruth Gordon

Martin and Ingrid at the Wooden Boat Festival in September.

It is with great sadness that I record the death of former member, Martin Musson.

Last July he was diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukemia and has been undergoing a series of treatments - both mainstream and alternative - ever since. Sadly the leukemia came back recently with a vengeance until his body was no longer strong enough to fight infection. He died peacefully, at home, on 13 October.

In spite of the illness and the chemo therapy Martin carried on hiking, jogging and messing about in boats whenever he was well enough and when he wasn't he took up making and sailing radio controlled yachts. Recently, in Ingrid's words "Martin had his best RC sailing ever, proudly getting four firsts, three seconds and one third. He also owns five planes and one helicopter, had fun experiencing indoor flying and one session at Fort Worden, but as it was a little windy the plane crash landed in a tree. Amazingly he was able to retrieve it in one piece.

We can definitely say that, even when his health deteriorated, Martin made the most of having fun and finding joy."

It is that appetite for fun and living life to the full that everyone who knew him in the 1970s and early '80s will remember so well. “Better to wear out than rust!” was one of his favourite expressions.

After they emigrated to the USA their annual letters continued to be full of outdoor activities, big hikes, snowboarding, kayaking, sailing adventures on their old wooden boat, building his own rowing boat, (pictured below in May 2020) to compete in a 70 mile race and in his spare time there was the four year project to rebuild a 1970 Mark 3 Triumph Spitfire, his pride and joy.

It was Martin who first introduced me to climbing – taking me to Black Rocks and dragging me up Queen's Parlour Gully in 1976. I hadn't had so much fun in years. He introduced me to the Oread and to his mates, some of whom were to become my good friends. In short he changed the course of my life and I will miss him so much.

Our deepest sympathy goes to his wife, Ingrid, his companion over 43 years of adventures.

Rusty's Puzzle Corner

This month's puzzle:

During the mid 1950s the Welsh Walk covering the 14 three thousanders was a big item on the Oread Calendar, The 1959 version was my first Oread meet so I remember it well. Prior to this, there had been an occurrence on one of these walks which led to the perpetrator being tagged with the name of the mountain, as a jocular nickname. Who was this and what was the nature of the doing referred to?

Last month's puzzle solution:

The groups were linked as follows:
Brown Windy and Bilberry Knoll.
Great Black and White Slab.
Pennine Ridge and Limestone Way .
Border Cairn and Yorkshire Terrier.

Correct answers received from Rusty and Snod.
