1 - 8 May Cornwall Ed Bloomfield

This meet is fast approaching and the Kelynack campsite near St Just needs booking in advance: <https://kelynackholidays.co.uk/> It's a great spot for an early summer holiday with walking and climbing opportunities galore. Join the WhatsApp group or be in touch.

Ed Bloomfield email edwardlbloomfield@gmail.com tel. 07990 066362

Wednesday 13 May Charnwood Forest Walk Mike Rittig

This walk links some of the small pockets of country parks in the Charnwood Forest, a very unique landscape between Leicester and Loughborough, famous for displaying some of the oldest rocks in England where the first published discovery of Precambrian fossils took place. We will meet at the Outwoods Woodland P&D car park at 10am (OS Grid Reference SK514159, W3W \\form.signature.tripling, nearest postcode LE11 3YG) This is a large car park with cafe and toilets, £2 fee for the day. We will walk through the bluebell carpets of the Outwoods via Woodhouse Eaves to Swithland Woods, Bradgate Park, Beacon Hill and Buck Hill back to the Outwoods, 12ish relatively easy miles with 600m ascent.

Please let me know whether you would like to join the walk.

Mike Rittig: either text me on 07484 114 996 or email mike.rittig@gmail.com

15-17 May New Members Meet Heathy Lea Ed Bloomfield

It would be great to see as many Oreads as possible on this meet. Join the WhatsApp group or be in touch.

Thursday 21 May Dovedale area short walk Rusty Russell

After the abominable weather which graced my last two walks when I was heroically supported by Ruth (twice), Snod and Rachel, I have arranged for a more benign climate on this occasion.

We shall descend to Dovedale by a little used route and then climb the Staffordshire bank. A short scenic traverse will then be taken before squandering the height laboriously gained at Gypsy Bank. The return will be by Tissington Trail.

Please assemble at the lay by on A515 (Ashbourne to Buxton) opposite Alsop Moor Cottages (ref 156 563) at about 10.45 for an 11.00am start. Anyone wishing to travel with me (dogs included) can leave their cars at Slate House DE6 1QD but please ring previously 01335 390369 or email (zrussell2@googlemail.com)

22-26 May Ben Nevis/Glen Nevis Michael Moss

Lots of opportunities for climbing, scrambling and walking here. I'm planning to camp at the Glen Nevis campsite which is walking distance from Fort William and close to the climbing on the Ben and Glen Nevis. The hope is to do some mountain rock routes on the north face. If the conditions aren't right then lower level routes in Glen Nevis are an alternative.

Michael Moss email mamoss@btinternet.com tel. 07932 420414

Saturday 23 May Rowsley circular walk Louise Amandini

We are going to start in the free car park in Rowsley at 10.00am. It's a circular walk, 9.5 miles heading towards Haddon Hall then towards Alport then Stanton. Louise Amandini: tel 07876 543171 or via the WhatsApp walking group.

Wednesday 3 June Shillito Woods walk Nick Evans

Start: Shillito Wood Car Park. Free. SK295750. What3words received.adapt.veal Route- Greaves's Piece, Flask edge, Topley moor, Longshaw, White Edge. Distance 10 or 11 miles.

Nick Evans: email nick.evans4864@gmail.com tel. 07341 258328 or via the Walking group WhatsApp.

Saturday 6 June Windgather Family Meet Dan Boast

Family meet at Windgather Rocks, parking at SJ993782 (just on the road underneath the crag).

It's a lovely short crag with features that are very child-friendly. We'll be bringing a 3 and 5 year old but all families welcome. We'll be setting up some top ropes and pads for the children and plan to have a sociable picnic at the crag.

We have a couple of kids harnesses for younger ones if anyone needs to share. Dan Boast email dboast42@gmail.com tel. 07934 712621

12-19 June Fairhead or alternative Kevin Raisin-Moss

Fairhead stretches the length of Stanage but has routes up to 100m high with plenty of long 40-50m single pitches. Well protected cracks and corners prevail as well as aretes and face climbs. It's got it all basically, served up in a single venue. There is little below VS but for those operating at that or above there is quality galore.

Located in Northern Ireland near the Giants Causeway (nearest town is Ballycastle) this is a beautiful area with plenty of scenic walks.

Ferries can be taken from either Holyhead to Dublin or Cairnryan to Belfast. Similar total trip time.

We are looking to camp at Trench Farm (£10pp pn for camping). State Oread when booking as we will have a dedicated area. E-mail info@trenchfarm.com.

If you want to go please be in touch as soon as you can because an alternative venue – Northumberland is being considered if there is not enough interest in this wonderful venue.

Join the WhatsApp group and Contact Kevin Raisin-Moss if requiring further information: e-mail mapperleysamurai@gmail.com or tel: 07920 522691.

Saturday 20 June Geo walk Fairholmes to Upper Burbage Bridge Chris Wilson

This section of the Geo walk will take place in perfect weather towards the end of June (wear your shorts and bring a sun hat and sun cream!). The official description is available online following this link:

<https://peakdistrictgeowalk.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/12/Section-12.pdf>

The walk is 18 km / 11¼ miles long with 530 m / 1,750 ft of ascent, strolling (actually, it's steep) up from Fairholmes to Lost Lad and Back Tor. Fortunately it's then more or less downhill all the way to Moscar before a more gentle ascent follows to High Neb on Stanage. It's then on to Burbage Bridge. To quote the guide, "you will feel well exercised" by the end! There is one 500m section of unpleasant road walking near Moscar which could be avoided by a fairly lengthy detour – something to be decided when we get there.

Apart from the geology and the fabulous scenery there are lots of other points of interest along the way. Coal mines on top of Stanage, evidence of Bronze and Mesolithic age settlements, old turnpike roads, Roman roads and wonderful rock climbs to name a few. I hope to have some notes prepared that you can read in advance, just ask! Unfortunately apart from the start nowhere along the way serves refreshments, so unless you can persuade someone else to share theirs you'll need to bring your own.

The route is linear and parking at each end can be problematic, so a 9.30 departure from Fairholmes seems reasonable, with cars left at each end. It takes about 30 minutes to drive from Fairholmes to Upper Burbage Bridge. Could you please let me know if you are going so we can co-ordinate transport.

26-28 June Little Langdale meet leader needed

We have our regular hut swap with the Fylde M.C. 16 beds up for grabs in a delightful hut, well placed for all the classic Langdale crags, great mountain walking and biking on the doorstep.

8 -15 August The Vanoise National Park Alpine meet Steve Christian

This year's summer alpine meet takes us to the Val Cenise in the Vanoise National Park. We'll be staying at Termignon, a small alpine village that has everything you need and is also the terminus for the summer access bus to the higher valley car parks that give access to the inner mountains (NB access road closed in the summer to tourists). We'll be staying at camping Les Melezes, which has good facilities and plenty of shade, link here.

Les Mèlèzes à Val-Cenis Termignon en Savoie

The campsite in Termignon is now open for bookings for the Oread summer alpine meet on the 8th to 15th August, see the link below. Some members are arriving earlier or staying longer.

The message from the site manager is:

"When booking, you can add comments and in this case, fill in "oread" so that we can make sure to assign you places close to each other.

Note that the pitches measure at least 80m² and that it is possible to accommodate up to 6 people on them, so it is possible for the members of your group to reserve 1 single pitch for several tents and several people so that it is more economical for you"

There is walking, mountaineering, via ferrata, valley cragging, mountain cragging, mountain and road riding all within easy reach. It's good for active families and I have holidayed there many times in the last decade.

There is general information about the area in the link below.

Vanoise National Park - Haute Maurienne Vanoise

There is a Cicerone selective guidebook in English that covers the many activities (link below), along with French language and topo guides for more detail on rock climbing in the area.

If you have any questions about the activities in the area, I have spent several summers here in the last decade, undertaking family activities like rock climbing, via ferrata, MTB, walking and easy mountaineering, so don't hesitate to contact me. Any queries you can reach me on climbersteve@hotmail.com, there is also a WhatsApp group in the Oread Community you can join to express interest, keep up to date or ask questions.

25 November - 6 December Anti Atlas Morocco Ed Bloomfield

Due to recent events Wadi Rum looks like it will have to wait another year.

Instead we plan a return to the Anti Atlas – if you are interested join the WhatsApp group or be in touch.

29 January – 12 February 2027 Sun Rock Benidorm Ruth Gordon

It's a long way off but some of us have already booked our annual trip to the Costa Blanca in search of sunshine, bolted limestone and beautiful mountain walking. We have booked a few days earlier this time to avoid the mid February weekend which gets fully booked very quickly. However the hotel is very popular and early booking is advisable.

We have booked a Jet2 holiday from Manchester or East Midlands at the Aparthotel Terralta, Benidorm, with Half Board Plus but you can also self cater if you prefer. Car hire is essential for getting to the crags but we will organise that nearer the time when we know how many are coming. Any questions please be in touch.

Ruth Gordon email: alistair.ruth@btinternet.com tel. 01629 56636 and leave a message if I'm not at home.

July 2027 Pyrenees mountain walking/climbing Mark Hipwell

Expressions of interest invited for a Mid-July 2027 Pyrenees Trip.

This will be a hut to hut trip, using each hut as a base to explore the Cirque De Gavarnie and Ordesa Canyon (UNESCO site). Prospective peaks include Mt Perdu (3352m), Marbore Cylinder (PD 3328m), and Taillon (3147m). Walks include the spectacular Faja de las Flores, Breche De Roland, and the Circo de Cotatuero. If interested, please contact Mark Hipwell on the club WhatsApp or tel. 07706 451717.

News, Articles and Reports from Meets

Letter to the Editor

Subject: PEACOCK Date: 2026-04-07 09:08
From: Paul Gardiner To: newseditor@oread.co.uk

Regarding the article on page 10 of the April edition of the OREAD magazine - as winner of the Club Interest category I received a handful of broken bits and sticky tape.

Be aware that I have now repaired the exotic, golden bird and reinforced it in a suitable manner. (Needed an engineer to sort it!) I will now prepare a box in which to carry it so that any future recipient may, (with luck) accept it in good condition !!!

Old Paul G.

Heathy Lea Heroes!

A hole had been made in the monstrously thick wall of the toilet/shower room, a fire door fitted, the fire alarm was installed – the hut could be re-opened – but - disaster – the inside toilet was no longer playing the game! The Macerator Man was summoned, he serviced it and pronounced it to be working perfectly but the water wasn't going anywhere except back up the loo! Chris tried rodding the pipe but the blockage near the corner of the outside toilet was immovable. He made a plea for "Four able-bodied Oreads with spades to forgather on Wednesday 22 April - and gather they did – not four but seven willing volunteer navvies uncovered the pipe and found it not blocked but mis-aligned so it did not match up with the hole in the holding tank. All is now well – sincere thanks to all involved. Remember them with due gratitude as you enjoy the indoor facilities!!!

Monyash Short Walk 16 April Chris Paice

What pleasant surprise, the weather was dry and 13 people in total with three four legged companions as well. We had faraway views (with not much climbing required), green hills and a detour to Arbor Low. A first for many, including myself. We declined to partake in the sound scape activity and discussed the 'ins and outs' of the voluntary £1 donation that the farmer collects. From neolithic stones, a dry valley, monastic buildings at One Ash grange and deserted quarries, the peak district provides varied landscape and much history. Not forgetting the peacocks, lambs, bird song and emerging leaves on the trees. All this lends itself to varied topic conversations alongside smiles and laughter. The walk ends at the tearoom, and people took the opportunity to have refreshments at the end of the walk. Thank you all (too many to list) for joining me on a good day's walking. Thanks to Richard Freestone for the photo.

Toubkal Alpine Walking / Climbing: 12-17 March Summiting the High Atlas Mark Hipwell

Leader: Nigel Berry

The Approach: Life on the Avalanche

Our journey began in the village of Imlil, but it was Day 2 that provided our first lesson in Atlas geology. We moved up to Aroumd, which sits on the largest debris field in North Africa. 4,500 years ago, a massive earthquake triggered the collapse of the northwest face of Mount Aksoual. This rock avalanche sent millions of tons of debris tumbling down a 2,000m cliff, creating a vast plateau of boulders. Today, the local Amazigh (Berber) people have integrated their lives into this chaos; the gaps between boulders serve as goat pens and gardens, while the rocks themselves form the structural walls of their homes.

After dropping bags, we went onwards to 2,538m for acclimatisation. After a sunny lunch among the goats (and a brief snooze), my fancy watch informed me we had gained a 20% acclimatisation advantage, although, given my tech-savviness, it may well have been a 20% chance of rain. Either way, we felt ready.

The Ascent: Neltner Hut (3,207m)

The trek to the Neltner Hut (Refuge du Toubkal) took us past the snowline, and into more serious terrain. The hut itself was packed with novices who seemed to treat ice axes and crampons as indoor fashion accessories, frequently threatening the eyesight of fellow trekkers in the dining room. Between the lack of mountain manners and the midnight chatter, sleep didn't really happen that night.

Summit Day: Jebel Toubkal (4,167m)

The Alpine Start saw younger teams sprinting into the darkness clad in full down jackets, tactical ski goggles, and balaclavas. Drawing on the collective high-altitude experience of our team, we adopted a more sustainable mantra: a mix of Pole Pole, Paso o Paso, Bistari Bistari, and Doucement. It was with some quiet smugness that we soon overtook them as they were stripping off layers and gasping for water and air.

The climb wasn't without its trials. Altitude sickness is ever present to some extent, and for some, the final push was an exercise in grim determination.

However, the reward was a 100% team summit success, with a spectacular Atlas sunrise - purple hues bleeding into the black night, followed by the first warmth of the sun on our faces in the biting wind.

Recovery: Souks & Secret Gardens

Descending from the mountains, we transitioned to the sensory overload that is Marrakesh.

- The Souks: Navigated with Nigel's expert guidance, culminating in a dinner of "Blue Burgers", a culinary mystery we are still processing.
- The Secret Garden: An oasis in the centre of the city, with its Islamic garden of scented orchards and aromatic hedges.

100% summit success!

This expedition struck that perfect balance between relaxation and genuine challenge. We had a great team of diverse ages and backgrounds, and it was the laughs and the chat in between the main events that made it memorable.

Special thanks to Nigel for his expert guiding and to the whole team for the camaraderie.

Peter O'Neill 14. 6. 1931 – 24. 3. 2026

Peter O'Neill, a member since 1976, has died at the age of 94. A good number of Oreads attended his funeral and many happy memories were shared – but there was much we didn't know – Pete's passion for the outdoors and climbing began at an early age – with the Scouts and he met his beloved wife, Jean, at the age of 13 – drawn together by their shared passion for climbing. They married in 1952.

During his National Service with the R.A.F. he learned his lifetime trade as a joiner – but he had many skills beyond a single trade. Pete could turn his hand to anything practical and, having bought some land on Spencer Close in Ashbourne he built his own house, from scratch and lived in his own creation to the end of his days. Even in his 90s he set to and built a stand for his new television.

Not all his creations worked out as planned – he once remodelled a pair of metal candlesticks Jean was rather fond of to make a couple of ice tools. Sadly they were not up to the job and wilted at their first test on real ice.....Jean smiled. A fiercely independent and self – reliant man he was hugely proud of being the first Englishman to climb the Matterhorn without a guide.

After retirement he and Jean travelled all over Europe – anywhere there were lovely mountains to explore. Her death in 2020 was a huge blow, followed by the untimely death of his son, Simon in 2023, aged only 64. Pete battled on, with the support of his daughter in law, Helena and managed, in spite of increasing ill health, to remain in his own home to the end.

Every now and then he would forget to pay his Oread subs – but there would soon be a phone call to Michael Hayes or your Hon. Ed. Saying that he really wanted to keep his membership – in spite of being housebound it really mattered to him.

For me, your Hon. Ed. I remember so many happy, carefree meets and holidays in his company, Simonds Yat, Pembroke at Easter in caravans, May and August in tents, drunken post Dovedale Dash gatherings at the George, Alstonefield. Blue skies, sunshine, surrounded by laughter and friendship – he is present in my memories of so many of my happiest days with the Oread.
